

CROW INDIANS ADOPT FOCH AS CHIEFTAIN

Bestow on Him Tribal Honors and Title of 'Napoleon of Napoleons.'

REGALIA IS PRESENTED

Chief Plenty Coups Receives Services of Red Man to World Liberty.

A COLORFUL CEREMONY

Gaily Comparisonee Horsemen, Squaws and Papposes Welcome the Marshal.

By DR. JOSEPH K. DIXON.

President of the National Indian Memorial Association.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Crow Agency, Mont., Nov. 28.—The sun was still behind the eastern sky when a union of colors met the eye as the Indian pushed the wheels of the Foch-Legion special that bore the great Marshal of France into the heart of the Indian country.

The red coats of the soldiers of the Empire have faded into the blue of the Republic. From the far white fields of France, the blue clad escort stepped forth on to the plains, winter white. On his platform vantage the Marshal stood at attention.

A few yards away there was a silent waiting for a vast concourse of Indian horsemen, riding without saddles, gaily caparisoned, surrounded by squaws, a multitude bearing on their backs the loved papoose, Indian fashion.

They were strong gaunt faces of horses that looked into the face of the Marshal—faced that frightened us with the majesty of their mighty past and the tragedy of their fading destiny—faced that looked a welcome to the great Captain who had led millions of men through war's Golgotha.

Ceremony of Welcome.

Chief Plenty Coups dismounted, mounted the platform, lighted the long red sandstone pipe, smoked it a moment and reverently laid it in the palm of the Marshal, who completed the ceremony of peace and welcome. They stood facing each other.

Foch had written for me in his Paris headquarters when he expressed a longing to meet this great race in their home country. "I cannot forget the brilliant services which the valiant Indian soldiers of the American armies have rendered to the common cause and the energy as well as the courage which they have shown in bringing about victory—decisive victory—by attack."

He had not dried on the page with a signature over the ribbons of decoration he said, "When I come to your country I must see the Indian, rather have an Indian war hero and coup stick—the Indian's valor—than my own Croix de Guerre."

The wish of the Marshal was expressed to Rodman Wanamaker, whose

CLEMENCEAU TAKES PART IN OPERATING ON FRIEND

Aged French Statesman, Once Surgeon Here, Enters Hospital, Causing Report of Death, but Visit Was as Assistant Operator, Not Patient.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Tribune, Nov. 28.

The "over green" Georges Clemenceau, France's war Premier, has astonished Paris by a new manifestation of youthful energy. He was seen entering a nursing home in the Rue Blot yesterday, and a report was started promptly that he was about to undergo a serious—perhaps, even hopeless—operation in a short time. Then it was widely reported that he was dead, but the news was being kept secret for political reasons.

The fact was that Clemenceau visited the nursing home not as a patient, but as a doctor, a profession in which he was educated, but which he quit many years ago to enter politics. Hearing that one of his intimate friends, Camille Goez, was about to undergo an operation, the "Tiger" in the capacity of a surgeon, offered his services as an assistant at the operation, hoping that his presence in the operating room might benefit his friend.

Clemenceau again visited the nursing home to-day and sharply rebuked a would-be interviewer for suggesting that the present cold snap might possibly be too severe for an elderly statesman to indulge in out of doors visiting.

man Wanamaker as a member and a chief. Because of his work in seeking to obtain for the Indian his rights and because of his efforts to preserve an enduring record of their race, they called him "Bak-Tai-Da-Espeches" (signifying "achieves many deeds"). In presenting Mr. Wanamaker's full regalia through his representative the old chief said: "Each evening I tell and eagle feather in this costume is a symbol of achievement and a pledge of valor. You have achieved all deeds and you deserve them."

TREATMENT OF ALIENS PROPER, INSISTS DAVIS

Secretary Answers Criticisms by Mark Glanville.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Secretary of Labor, Mr. Davis, in a letter to-day to Dr. Laurence L. Dorsett, president of the Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield, Mass., denied that Mark Glanville, English alien, and his wife and baby had been treated improperly on passage through the immigration station at Ellis Island.

Three weeks ago the British Foreign Office said diplomatic protests had been forwarded to Washington on the subject.

Mr. Davis said the Glanville family had received special attention and sanitary accommodations while in detention and added that Mr. Glanville's statements to the contrary should be "branded as a gross exaggeration and a deliberate misrepresentation of the facts."

SCAFFOLD IN COURT FOR MURDER EXHIBIT

Michigan Woman Accused in 'Suicide' of Husband.

THREE RIVERS, Mich., Nov. 28.—Trial of Mrs. Lavinia Slack, who with her brother-in-law, George Cooney, is accused of killing her husband, William J. Slack, was begun in Circuit Court here to-day. Slack's body was found hanging in the cellar of his home here several weeks ago.

With a scaffold erected in the court room the prosecution proposes to demonstrate its theory that Slack could not have hanged himself in the position in which his body was found. To complete the reproduction of the scene an iron bed that stood near where the body hung also has been taken to the court room.

Counsel for Mrs. Slack declared it would be shown Slack had been threatening suicide for years and frequently had written "farewell messages."

"Napoleon of Napoleons."

When Chief Plenty Coups presented the Indian regalia to the accompaniment of war dance and victory dance and welcome chant, he said: "How! Our hearts and our tongues are open to you." He then recounted how his fellow Indians had fought in all the wars of the United States, under Lafayette for the liberty of the colonies, in the civil war for the preservation of the Union and in the world war for the liberty of the whole world.

"Because you have won this liberty," said the Indian, "we adopt you into the tribe, giving you the name of Ah-Way-Ta-Bah-Che-Chish, Napoleon of Napoleons."

In conjunction with the event on behalf of the tribe the chief adopted Rod-

GUILLotine LOOMS FOR HENRI LANDRU

Prosecutor Begins Summing Up Charges of Eleven Murders by Prisoner.

DEMANDS DEATH PENALTY

Jury Tired After Four Hours and Godefroy Will Close To-day.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 28 (Associated Press).—The spectre of the guillotine hovered about the dingy little Versailles court room this afternoon as Prosecutor Godefroy in summing up against Henri Landru, the alleged murderer of ten women and a boy, drew a picture of horror and depravity which brought forth gasps and muttered imprecations from his auditors against the so-called "Bluebeard of Gambais."

Landru during the investigation remained impassive, surveying the court room with his usual cool and calculating glance, and occasionally jotting down notes on a pad. He did not even flinch as Godefroy punctuated each murder count with an impassioned appeal for the guillotine for the man he characterized as the greatest criminal of all time.

The jury, greatly impressed at first, seemed to lose interest and then became restless as the prosecutor tired under the great effort of his four hour address. M. Godefroy thereupon decided that he would postpone further summing up until to-morrow. This fact will delay by a full day the reaching of a verdict.

Counsel for Landru will make his plea in behalf of the accused when the prosecutor closes. The case is expected to go to the jury on Wednesday.

Godefroy laid special stress upon the testimony of the experts for the State and the postiveness of their identification as human of the bones found among the debris about Landru's villa at Gambais.

Recalling the incredulity with which the accounts of the case were at first received by the public, which "refused to believe that human nature could fall to such depths of depravity," the prosecutor calculated the theory advanced in some quarters that the case had been "popped up" by the authorities in April, 1919, to distract attention "from the painful deliberations over the peace treaty."

Godefroy dealt extensively with the theory that Landru had to kill his victims to protect himself. "As soon as these women became aware of Landru's real identity," he declared, "and learned that he was under four years jail sentence, to be followed by deportation, he assassinated them to prevent their denunciation."

WILSON STUDENT HALL BURNS.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 28.—Historic Chambers Hall at Davidson College, in which former President Wilson lived while a student at Davidson, was destroyed early to-day by fire. The building was erected in 1877 and at the time of the fire housed 129 students, all of whom escaped with most of their personal belongings.

RENEWAL OF IRISH WAR NOT FEARED

Sinn Fein Mission to Remain in London All Week. It Seems Certain.

CRAIG WILL SPEAK TO-DAY

Ulster Parliament to Learn Why He and Premier Failed to Agree.

LONDON, Nov. 28 (Associated Press).—The Irish situation marks time until Sir James Craig, the Ulster leader, presents the case of northern Ireland to the Ulster Parliament to-morrow and the British Cabinet has issued its promised statement in London.

Whether Sinn Fein will issue a statement simultaneously or wait to reply to Craig has not yet been decided. It is anticipated they may wait until Thursday, the earliest day it is believed possible for a renewal of conversations between them and Premier Lloyd George on the question of south Ireland's allegiance to the Crown.

The impression of those in touch with Dublin is that no immediate renewal of hostilities is apprehended. At Sinn Fein headquarters in London the expectation is that the mission will still be here at the end of the week.

Sir James, it is understood, will read the statement agreed upon between him and Mr. Lloyd George, giving the cause of the failure of the negotiations between them and the British Prime Minister for the establishment of an all-Ireland Parliament. According to a despatch from Belfast the statement will not touch upon what has passed between Mr. Lloyd George and the Sinn Fein representatives, including the latter's withholding of consent to take the oath of allegiance to the Crown.

Mr. Lloyd George will return from

Chequers Court to-morrow, it is said, to arrange affairs for whatever course the Irish negotiations may take and to prepare to go to Washington should conditions shape themselves favorably or the negotiators agree to a postponement of the conference which would enable him to leave England at this time.

Arthur Griffith this afternoon maintained the Sinn Fein view that the Sinn Fein has nothing to do with the conferences between the Cabinet and Ulster. A report from Dublin, however, said it was possible Eamon de Valera might have something to say.

The belief of the Sinn Fein representatives here, they indicated to-day, is that after Ulster has given her reasons for rejecting the all-Ireland Parliament plan the Government will continue its negotiations with the Sinn Fein delegation, except Robert Barton, who returned to London, are remaining in Dublin awaiting developments.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF KILLING SON BY KICK

Coroner Holds Clot on Boy's Brain Due to Blow of Foot.

COVENTRY, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Richard Davis, wanted for inflicting injuries upon his two-year-old son, William, which are held to have resulted in the boy's death, was arrested this morning. Davis had disposed of his rifle and did not offer any resistance. He had spent the night wandering in the surrounding woods.

The autopsy, Coroner Herbert Smith said to-day, disclosed that the boy's death was due to concussion of the brain, which produced a large blood clot on the brain. The blood clot is held to have resulted from a kick by the father's foot.

G. W. MORRIS DIED IN CHURCH.

Identification was made yesterday of the man who died suddenly on Sunday in St. Theresa's Church, Clason avenue, Brooklyn. The body was identified by his son, George, of 629 Grand avenue.
